True Courtesy.

True courtesy is "the beauty of the heart." How well it is that no class has a monopoly in this kind of beauty that while favorable circumstances undoubtedly do render good manners more common among persons moving higher rather than in lower spheres there should nevertheless be no positive hindrance to the poorest classes having good manners. Here is an illustration of true politeness exhibited by both classes of society. One day in hastily turning the corners of a crooked street in the city, young lady ran with great force against a ragged little beggar boy, and almost knocked him down. Stopping as soon as she could, she turned around and said very kindly to the boy, "I beg your pardon, my little fellow, I am very sorry that I ran against you." The poor boy was astonished. He looked at her for a moment in surprise, and then taking off about three quarters of a cap, he made a low bow and said, while a pleasant smile spread itself all over his face, "You can have my pardoning, miss, and welcome; and the next time you run against me you can knock me clean down and I won't say a word." After the lady had passed on he turned to his companion and said, "I say Jim, it's the first time I ever had anybody ask my pardoning, and it kind o' took me off my feet."

Woman now has, or should have the right to govern her home. The right to vote is insignificant when compared to this. She must be mistress, but never its slave. That she has made it immaculate in cleanliness and resplendent in beauty is not enough. She must feed the love and truth which should unite govern it. What power or dignity can reach higher? What is the ability to sway large audiences over a home with such skill that husband and children shall rise up and call her blessed? To be the ruling spirit in such a position is more sacred honor than to rule an empire. "Woman's right?" Has man any higher or more noble? And when husband and wife see eye to eye and heart to heart one in the interest of home they have reached as near perfection as we are allowed to hope for while on earth.

Every husband can have good coffee if on some morning the coffee is a shade too brown to suit your taste do not scold about it; and, on every other morning when it is delicious, say so. Try this way and you will find your coffee and everything else to your taste much better; and besides you will give the ones you ought to love the sweetest consciousness that they are doing the work well and giving satisfaction to the one of all others, they most desire to please; thus inspiring them with renewed energy to strive for the merited reward of kind appreciative words. And so shall home happiness come to pervade the whole house born and nurtured into beautiful fragrant blossoming by your own kind words and deeds.

If the little child gets a bump or a fall or a cut or skinned finger mother will say: "Come to your mother and let her pet you," and she will kiss the bumped head and wrap up the cut finger with a few kind words. Then the child knows you love it, and it will love you and always respect you, and when years have passed and gone and they have grown to manhood and womanhood they will look back to their childhood days as the happiest days of their lives.

No man is ever likely to accomplish any more than he resolutely sets himself to accomplish. The tendency is to drift, to float with the current to let stream of life sweep us whither it will. That is the easier way doubtless and the banks are very beautiful and pleasant as we glide between them but our true journey lies the other way in the real treasure mines of life are in the hills near the sources of the river; and we must row, row hard against the current if we would reach them. Let us row, not float through life; steer, not drift.

Do you know how many books are in the Bible? Let us tell you one good way to remember, so as never to forget. First write down the word "Old Testament." Now how many letters are in the word "Old"? Three. How many in the word "Testament"? Nine. Put three and nine together and you will have 12 the number of books in the Old Testament. Next write down the words "New Testament." There are also in "New" and "Testament" three and nine letters. Now multiply 2 by 9 and you have 18, the number of books in the New Testament. Of course by adding 12 and 18 you have 30 the number of books in the Bible. Any boy or girl who will read this over twice will never forget how many books are in the Bible.

How sad is he who can never go back to his childhood without a shudder. Who can never recall a period when his life was filled with sweet and simple satisfaction. When a kind and loving mother read aloud to the family the Home Circle department from the columns of this paper.

Did you ever realize that nothing on earth can smile but a human being. Gems may flash reflected light but what is a diamond flash? A face that cannot smile is like a bud that cannot blossom, and dies on the stalk.

Youth and age have too little sympathy with each other. If the young would remember that they may be old and the old remember that they have been young, the world would be happier.

Cincinnati man discovers drug that loosens corns so they lift out.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezings, the recent discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

A quarter of an ounce costs very little at any store which handles drugs, but this is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn or toughened callus and instantly the soreness is relieved and the corn or callus is so shriveled up that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

AMERICAN CONGRESSMEN GEN. PERSHING'S GUESTS.

With the American Army in France, Thursday, Aug. 15.—The members of the Committee on Naval Affairs of the House of Representatives, who have been on a tour of inspection in England and France, were the guests of Gen. Pershing, at luncheon today. Afterward they were received by the commander-in-chief at his headquarters.

The Congressmen arrived at noon and departed late in the afternoon for Chateau Thierry to visit the American troops in region. They will start for home Friday night.

D. J. PETERS WRITES HOME

As a June Peters has received the following letter from her son who recently went to France:

Thenay, France, July 7, 1918.

Dear Mother:

This is Sunday and we are having a dandy time. Talmadge and I are still together. We have been having a good time. Had a fine trip crossing the big pond. I don't know where Willis is. Haven't seen him since we left. Guess you got the letter I wrote before I got off the boat.

We are having a time trying to talk to the people over here. Can talk some French now, but not much.

You must write and tell me how everything is getting along, how the crop is. I am going to write often.

This is a pretty country. We are a long ways from the front yet.

Do you know where Lawrence See is? How are Jessie and Kenneth and Brizzle?

Guess school will begin right away. Who will teach it?

We are getting plenty of good eating here. There are no frame houses here at all. All are built of stone or brick and some of them look like they are a thousand years old! Everything is entirely different from in the States. The wagons over here have only two wheels. Everything is a lot cheaper here than there.

Guess Luther is still at Camp Taylor.

Write me all the news there is. Regards to all.

DOVER J. PETERS.
1 Co. 1st Inf. Tro. Reg. A. P. O. 777, A. E. F.

We have been away on a big parade for about a week. We paraded at Ligon, France, the 14th of July. They celebrate that day just the same as we do the 4th and they dedicated a bridge to Woodrow Wilson and we sure had a good time. There were several other different troops there. That is next to the largest city in France and is a fine place.

I am learning to speak the language. There are lots of good people over here and they think a lot of the Americans. Don't know how long it will be before we go to the front. Talmadge is still with me. Guess you all are well. Guess I will get my mail all right when I get in my regular company. Tell Mrs. Wells I saw Willis. Will be back before long I think. Tell everybody hello.

HARLAN BLACKBURN IN FRANCE

The following from a letter received by a friend on August 23rd will be of interest to many of our readers. Harlan Blackburn is the son of Peyton Blackburn, of Lock Creek, and left Louisa Oct. 3, 1917, in the second allotment from this county, consisting of 70 young men:

"This has been a pretty country and a part of it is all right. But I hope that God will speed the day when I shall return to the States."

"I have been faring pretty good so far in regards to eats and acts. I haven't been up to the front line trenches yet, but just a little closer and I would have gone. I was on guard in our kitchen last Sunday (July 7) when a German shell came over and landed in about 15 steps of me. Boom! she went. It almost lifted me off my feet and seemed to me like the dirt and leaves and everything rained all around me. I guess it would have been funny to see me hit the ground and slide under some trees. It sure made all the chaps scatter. Some six or eight of our boys were pretty close, but not a one was scratched, but it blew a British soldier's league up pretty bad. I got up and looked to see who was killed, at the same time deciding it was no place for me to hang around, so I started and about the time I got out of the scope of woods into the opening, whis another one went over my head and landed over a high bank that I was making for, so I decided right away that was no place for your humble servant, John. Changing my course, down through a field I went when bang went another one just on the opposite side of our kitchen from where the first one struck. This shell killed two, one an Australian and the other a British soldier. It also wounded a couple more and caused another to run over a stump and break his knee."

If I had remained where I was standing until the third shell came perhaps I would not have been in this dugout writing this letter.

On the 4th of July I went to a dressing station not far from where we were camping. There I saw the most pitiful sight I ever saw in my life, men were butchered up more than I can tell.

Well, I am not in the range of the little guns, but I am in the range of the big ones. The shells he sent us Sunday were about 60 or 70 pound shells, but that is nothing. We send him some 150 pound ones sometimes.

I have an idea he ducks for his 90-foot dugout when they begin to whiz. I have been digging a hole to put our kitchen in today. We have quite a lot of digging in to do over here.

Tell aunt I would be more than glad to exchange with her if it was possible to do so. You know talk is cheap, but it takes nerve and lots of it when it comes to the do. The brave talking fellow is a coward nine times out of ten.

Give my best regards to all.

J. H. BLACKBURN, M. G. Co. 121st Inf. France

NATURE TELLS YOU

As Many a Louisa Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are weak. Nature tells you about it. The urine is nature's index. Infrequent or too frequent passage. Other disorders suggest kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys.

Louisa People testify to their worth. J. W. Pinson, Lock Ave., says: "My kidneys were weak and I suffered severely. My back ached and sharp, cutting pains darted through the small of it. I could hardly straighten after bending over and the kidney secretions were highly colored and irregular in passage. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of the complaint and I have felt well ever since."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Pinson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

1917 DOG TAX PAYABLE.
In a statement from the Attorney General's office Sheriffs are instructed to collect the 1917 dog tax and return it to the State Auditor. The license law of 1918 repealed the old dog license law before the 1917 dog assessment was collected and it was submitted to the Attorney General to decide whether the collections for 1917 could be made.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make this beauty lotion for a few cents and use for yourself.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore, irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin. Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.
